When a client request a website, he is redirected to I use the redirect in Yii2, the user will be redirected to if the user is not login. Yii2 redirect user to page, the user need to login again. This is not what I want. Is there a way to confirm the user has a logged in status? (eg. some PHP code can do that) A: That is the default behavior of Yii2. And when user is logged in it will automatically redirect to main/login page. You can change this behavior from config file. Check out this official documentation. To change the default behavior of Yii2, you need to modify actionAccess.php (as you need to override the default behavior of actionAccess). Go to /vendor/yiisoft/yii2/framework/web/controller/action.php and search for actionAccess. public function actionAccess($operation, $args) { if (YII_DEBUG && $operation === 'view' && isset($args[0])) { $type =

Introduction: Keymacro is an application designed for users who want to speed up their keystrokes when performing repetitive tasks, such as editing files, copying and pasting. Installation: There are two methods for installing this software. The first method is direct installation using the Windows setup file. The second method is to run the Keymacro EXE in a separate folder to install it. Main features: Keymacro is designed to speed up your keystrokes in Windows environments, and you can get the most out of it with a keyboard macro recorder. With that in mind, it has some of the following features: Free up space on your keyboard There are several reasons you might want to free up some of the space on your keyboard. For example, if you are working on a laptop, having a bunch of keys clogged up can cause finger cramps. Put your mouse to work A lot of people have been the target of keyboard-related injuries because they have been using their hands for too long. If you have to type too much, it's time to switch to the mouse. Become a multilingual computer user Ever had to type different strings of letters for different languages? Sometimes, depending on the program, the letters might not be the same for all languages. Start typing faster If you think typing is one of the things slowing down your work, there's an easy way to fix it. You need to learn how to type with fewer keystrokes. Cleaning up your computer Sometimes, you might want to make some system changes without having to re-log-in. This can be accomplished by using the RunAs command. Languages supported: Keymacro can work in any Windows system, regardless of the language it was installed in, and it has been tested with Windows 8, 7, Vista, XP, 2000 and 98. Compatibility with other software: Keymacro can operate alongside any Windows application, so you don't have to worry about it. System requirements: Keymacro has been designed to work with the latest versions of Windows, so it should work without any problems on any of the above operating systems. Memory requirements: 128 MB RAM is the minimum recommended amount of memory that Keymacro should run. You should allocate more RAM than that if you have it available, but there should be no more than 512 MB of memory in total. System requirements: 1d6a3396d6

In its developer mode, the program can be used to edit audio and video files. You can use it to add or remove silence from a recording, or to change the speed of a video, in order to make it play faster. Also, you can enhance the contrast and saturation levels, and make other adjustments to the image, such as vibrance, white balance and hue. It is possible to: - Split a video into two tracks - Create or synchronize video projects - Edit in a non-destructive way - View and search for photos and video - Add text, stickers, etc. - Convert audio files into MP3, WAV and WMA - Save to external drives - Convert video and audio files to various formats - Split audio files into different channels - Add and remove subtitles - Convert audio and video files into popular formats - Edit the sound track of a video, as well as adjust the volume - Arrange photos and videos - Organize files - View, sort, extract and convert images - Create video effects - Choose the desired video codec and audio codec Video editing software is developed by professionals, with the sole aim of creating your personal videos. It is important for you to decide whether you need it or not, and we will be going in to the details of each aspect of video editing software, so as to help you make the right decision. Before we proceed, we need to clarify that every one of the features is a must have, and you need to be very careful while trying out each and every one of these tools. The best part of having your own video editing software is that you have absolute control over your video, as you can add or remove objects and audio tracks, as well as make changes to the video's quality, frame rate, language, effect, exposure, and many more aspects. What's more, you can add any background music or sound effects, as well as split your videos into separate audio tracks and even add subtitles to any video. If you are thinking about switching to video editing software, it's important for you to understand how the editing software works and how to use it. You should not try using video editing software before testing it on a few test videos, as the software is not a replacement for your video editing skills, and you can't expect to master it in a few weeks. Basically, there are a few
