Â Major Books of the Islamic Law Science
From the time of the Prophet and the companions, there have been books of the Islamic law science written in a variety of languages and dialects. All these books should be taken into account and studied in the context of the holy Qur'an, the earlier books of the Islamic law science, and the contemporary codes of the four schools of law, along with the books of the recent masters. Also, we should study them in their historical context, and not only from the modern Muslim viewpoint. Vol 1 -Â The Treatise of Usul al Fiqh (The Foundation of the Science of the Islamic Law) Vol 2. -Â The Manual of Usul al Fiqh Vol 3

-Â Tajdid al Naqqud wa Tarikhiyat al Fiqh Vol 4
-Â Majma al Shariah (The Science of the Islamic Jurisprudence) Vol 5 -Â Majma al Shariah Volume 2 (contains the theoretical part of the Shariah) Ibn Rushd's Makalim awusul (Foundations of the Science of the Islamic Law). -Â Nawawib al Mustaqlib (The Best Professor of Islamic Jurisprudence) -Â Takhrij al-Amwal (An Atlas of the Science of the Shariah) -Â Uyun al-Athar (The Exact Measure)
-Â Taysir al-Fariq (The Best Work of the Science of the Shariah) -Â Isinat al-Sihah (Invented Syllogisms) What the Holy Qur'an Reveals about the Science of Islamic Law. The science of the Islamic law exists in the form of five books. These books have been revealed in the holy Qur'an. These books are: Sunnah; Qur'an; Hadith, the Prophet's (pbuh) sayings and actions; and fiqh, the Islamic jurisprudence. These books contain certain information about the reality of the world and the science of the Islamic law, the most important of which is the science of the Islamic law. The theory of the science of the Islamic law has been described in the Holy
